Papa

9 years have passed.

But, never did we come over by that moment, the hit, that you’d gone away.

it was never the right time for you to say goodbye.

You, papa, taught us so much.

To show no fear. To always have fun & face each day with cheer.

though we took our own path, but is still the part of your world.

in your lil daughters’ eyes you were always so able.

So ideal & so strong.

You never looked for praises. You were never one to boast.

You were always there for those you loved the most.

You always worked so hard, and those strong working hands;

led us through life and helped us understand woman.

That life can be hard and tough and sad.

But anyway

We could share much brighter through it all.

Meanwhile having faith is ‘life is actually pretty good’.

When things doesn’t match good, We follow you

We look back and laugh at times.

But then make it up all still perfect again.

I wish you could hear me, So I could let you know.

“Just one how your daughters’ were the apple of your eyes,
You were the buli to our soul’. So yes papa,

Yes we are at a bar of sorrow,

we smile a little more with each tomorrow.

we follow our schooling.

But make you in our journey.
