Chief Secretary inaugurates Workshop-cum-Training Prog. on 'Records Management'

Well-managed records are easily accessible, allowing quick access to information and better decision-making: CS

Staff Correspondent
Sri Vijaya Puram, Apr. 3

A two-day workshop-cum-training programme on 'Records Management' for the designated Departmental Records Officers got underway today in the Auditorium Hall of Tagore Govt. College of Education (TGCE), Sri Vijaya Puram. Being organised by A&N Archives of A & N Administration in association with the National Archives of India, New Delhi, the Chief Secretary, A & N Administration, Dr. Chandra Bhushan Kumar, IAS, as the chief guest inaugurated the workshop-cum-training by lighting the traditional oil lamp. Addressing the gathering, the Chief Secretary expressed happiness for the conduct of the training and stated that well-managed records are easily accessible, allowing quick access to information and better decision-making. The Chief Secretary said, for the better functioning of the Departments, it is essential to have a proper Record

Management System and also a better retrieval mechanism, so that required document can be retrieved in a short notice. He further underlined the need for organizing exposure visits for officials from A&N Administration to National Archives,

New Delhi to have a first-hand knowledge on how old records are maintained, preserved and also about its retrieval procedures, as these documents are very important for the progress of our society.

In her address, the Secretary, Archives, A & N Administration, Ms. Smitha. R, IAS, said that this training programme is being held for two days which will further strengthen the Departments to preserve our heritage and our records. She further stated that,
